

Key

Blue frames mark network infrastructure, black frames servers and controllers. Each address names the interface in the network the device connects to.

